

BEST JOHN MULANEY QUOTES

- My vibe is like, hey you could probably pour soup in my lap and I'll apologize to you.
- I never knew you were supposed to push off of your feet when you walked. And I tried it, and I walked much faster.
- You should be able to say, 'I don't know.' That should be an acceptable answer on a test.
- If something is very, very funny but possibly controversial, if it's truly funny, then it's worth doing. Things aren't worth doing for the sake of being controversial.
- I was always the squarest person in the cool room, and alternatively, sometimes the weirder person at the mainstream table.
- I have a lot of stories about being a kid because it was the last time I was interesting.
